

THE ULTIMATE ANTI-AGING

WATER WITH MOLECULAR HYDROGEN

More than 340 clinical trials demonstrate the antioxidant effect of molecular hydrogen, making it every human's greatest ally against the oxidative stress caused by free radicals. As a result, water that is enriched with molecular hydrogen has a strong anti-inflammatory effect, has neuroprotective properties and slows down the aging process.

ACTION AND CHARACTERISTICS OF MOLECULAR HYDROGEN

SYNERGY

SIZE. Molecular Hydrogen, due to its extremely microscopic size, has the ability to penetrate deep into cells and mitochondria (the cell machinery) and eliminate free radicals from their source.

SELECTIVITY. Unlike other antioxidants, which cannot distinguish harmful free radicals (hydroxyl radicals) from beneficial ones (hydrogen peroxide), molecular hydrogen selectively targets harmful free radicals and neutralizes them, thus protecting the cellular homeostasis.

SAFETY. An additional important factor of Molecular Hydrogen is that its overconsumption does not burden the organism, does not cause toxicity and does not require energy consumption to dissolve it. In contrast, overconsumption of other antioxidants puts a strain on the liver and therefore the organism needs to expend extra energy to break them down.

SYNERGY. Molecular Hydrogen while directly removing harmful hydroxyl radicals, at the same time activates the natural antioxidant enzymes of the cell (glutathione peroxidase, catalase, dismutase), the so-called cell repairers. This combined action ensures the long-term protection of the organism.

1 INHALED HYDROGEN

Molecular hydrogen by gas diffusion easily crosses the blood-brain barrier, which is not the case with most antioxidants. For this reason, its use is recommended in neurological disorders as well as in lesions of the central nervous system.

In addition to neurodegenerative diseases, inhaled molecular hydrogen has also been shown in studies to improve other brain conditions and injuries, such as hypoxia-ischemia brain damage, stress or age-related cognitive impairment, brain injury etc.

For a 10-minute session, press the start button 3 times, after first connecting the nasal mask to the generator.

2 DRINKING WATER WITH HYDROGEN

* Start-up: press the start button twice in a row for 5 minutes of hydrogen production, while if you press it three times in a row you will have 10 minutes of hydrogen production for even higher molecular hydrogen content in your water.

3 OZONATED WATER

* Startup: press and hold the start button once until a distinct periodic sound is heard from the generator.

-  Improves the appearance of the skin and restores wounds (put ozonated water directly on the wound)
-  Due to its antibacterial action, use it to wash the larynx and prevent upper respiratory infections
-  For bad breath: Use ozonated water to rinse your mouth (gargle) and brush your teeth
-  It can be used as a foot bath with antifungal properties
-  Helps, through mouthwashes, in the treatment of gingivitis and periodontitis

For better results use the DeAqua technology in conjunction with the De Vita Energy 8 device.
